CAN ACCOMMODATE VISITORS

Because Ralph E. Campbell, federal judge of the eastern district, is of the opinion that Ardmore does not have hotel accommodations for jurors, litigants and witnesses, he convened court here today, and after hearing motions and demurrers, passed every case for the term and adjourned.

It is true that Ardmore does not at this time have hotel accommodations equal to some of the cities of the state due to the fact that the Whittington hotel is being torn down to make room for a much finer structure, but Ardmore does have a series of smaller hotels with excellent rooms and under good clean management that will accommodate the attendants upon the federal court. In addition to the smaller hotels the city is well equipped with modern rooming houses that have practically all the accommodations of the modern hotel. The only thing missing is the lobby where men congregate to talk, and the bellhop in gaudy uniform.

Ardmore took care of the crowds in the heyday of the oil fields when more visitors were here than to one than the federal court will bring. Many handsome apartment houses and rooming houses were built to take care of that business, and those houses are still here and they are equal to any emergency that confronts the city.

If Judge Campbell will hold his court we assure him that every attendant will have a good meal and a clean, comfortable bed.

PERSONNEL OF COMMITTEE

In last Friday's issue of The Ardmoreite is a statement of the rules proposed with reference to the settlement of claims for damages sustained by Ardmore property owners, by reason of the recent explosion of the gasoline car. The Santa Fe Railway Company has agreed to assume the entire debt thus incurred, both with respect to the property damage and personal injuries. The railroad company has agreed, in instances where it cannot agree with the claimant, to leave the amount of loss sustained to a committee appointed by the mayor. This is absolutely fair and great credit is due the railroad company for this show of magnanimity.

The Santa Fe has always been a

To Avoid Dandruff

You do not want a slow treatment when hair is falling and the dandruff germ is killing the hair roots. Delay means—no hair.

Get, at any drug store, a bottle of some for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size. Use as directed, for it does the work quickly. It kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the hair roots and immediately stops itching scalp. It is sure and safe, is not greasy, is easy to use and will not stain. Scabs and shampoos are harmful, as they contain alkali. The best thing to use is soap, for it is pure and also inexpensive.

friend of Ardmore; Ardmore has tried to be loyal to her; the situation is reciprocal.

The mayor, Val Mullen, is entitled to a good deal of credit in suggesting the proposed compromise.

The committee selected is a good one; its personnel is all that may be desired. Lee Cruce, chairman, former governor of Oklahoma; P. C. Dings, president of the Guaranty State Bank, and selected by 576 banks because of his integrity and business ability as a member of the state banking board; J. S. Mullen, president of the chamber of commerce, the largest individual farm land owner in the state; H. C. Potter, regent of the state university, and formerly grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of the state, and a lawyer of recognized ability; B. A. Simpson, the manager of the largest wholesale grocery company in southern Oklahoma, and having large oil interests; J. W. Harrell, president of the bar association, for years referee in bankruptcy in the federal court, and a man of integrity and standing.

These gentlemen serve without compensation; they are men of affairs, every one of them from a business standpoint desired to be relieved, but the mayor and their own sense of patriotic duty imposed a rescinding of this proposed action. The railroad company agreed. There are as good men in our midst, but no better. Let every man exhibit his appreciation of the railroad in their fairness and their confidence in the integrity of this committee, by obeying the rule and let's get the whole thing settled.

MALIGNED ROCKEFELLER SHOWS NO BITTERNESS

Denver, Colo., Oct. 11.—I have told the officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the miners employed by the corporation that there is one thing which must never happen again—that is a strike. A strike is wantonly wasteful of human life and property; no party is benefited but all parties are harmed, including the public and the state.

"This was the statement of John D. Rockefeller Jr., in an address before the Denver Chamber of Commerce Friday. In speaking of his father's interest in Colorado, Mr. Rockefeller paused to say:

"Criticism, maligned and condemned these many years not only for his business success but also because of his philanthropic endeavors, there is still not the slightest trace of bitterness in his character and he has nothing but good will for men.

"Whatever I am or may be I owe to my mother and father."

Mr. Rockefeller affirmed his belief in labor unions, provided they are so organized as to leave "every worker free to associate himself with such groups or to work independently."

CRIMINAL COURT OF APPEALS AFFIRMS THE DEATH PENALTY

Oklahoma City, Oct. 11.—The death chair at the Oklahoma penitentiary will receive its first victim Friday, Dec. 10. The victim will be Henry Bookman, convicted in McIntosh county of the murder of Richard Mardin, a white man, on April 2. The criminal court of appeals today affirmed the conviction and death penalty that was assessed in McIntosh county.

This will be the first electrocution in Oklahoma and the first death penalty since early in the administration of former Governor Cruce. Governor Cruce early took the position that capital punishment was wrong, and began commuting death penalties to life imprisonment. There are now in the penitentiary at McAlester about twenty negroes who are serving life terms as a result of the governor commuting death penalties for them. On the other hand Governor Williams said early in his administration that he wants the law to take its course, and that he will not interfere with the execution of prisoners sentenced to death where it appears that they have had fair trials and just sentences. It is understood that Governor Williams has read the record in the Bookman case carefully, and that he will refuse to intervene for the life of the condemned man.

Another capital case that was decided today by the criminal court of appeals was that of R. C. Moorehead, a negro, convicted in Kiowa county and sentenced to death in the chair for the murder of Clifford Harrison, a white man, at Snyder. Felt T. Moorehead is more fortunate than Bookman in this instance, as the judgment of the lower court was reversed for errors in the trial and the negro will have another trial in the district court.

The death chair at the McAlester penitentiary has been completed several days. It was tried out a calf being the victim. When the law providing for electrocution instead of hanging was enacted by the Oklahoma legislature several years ago, a small appropriation was made for installing a death chair, but owing to the opposition of Governor Cruce to the death penalty as well as the opposition of Warden R. W. Dick of the penitentiary to that form of punishment, no progress was made toward installing the chair until the Williams administration came in. Even then it was some time before the state board of public affairs undertook to have a chair built and equipped.

GOVERNOR BOB JOLTS THE LEGISLATURE AS NEGLIGENT

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 9.—Governor R. L. Williams, who came here ostensibly to attend the fair, but is meeting a number of prominent east side democrats in conference relative to the manner of defeating the fair election measure initiated by the socialists, combed the last legislature up and down the back for negligence and general incompetency, paying especial attention to the state highways department.

It is said that the governor is fearful of the calling of an extra session of the legislature, feeling that it may stand as a glaring comment upon his economy pretenses, and he does not know which way the legislature may jump. It is certain that, if he travels about a few days longer he will learn that up the creek the boys are placing the "N. G." label on his administration.

FALL PLOWING BEST.

All Crops Grow Better and Produce More, Says Demonstrator.

Every year we note that the fall plowed land produces the best crop but some people who vow they will plow their land another year put it off for one thing and another until planting time arrives and then it is too late to make a good seed bed. Few people now fail to recognize the value of fall plowing but not all of them do it. If we all did as well as we knew there would be better crops raised and the farmer more prosperous. This is to call your attention to the matter and urge you to try and fall break your land. It stands the drought better and is in better condition to cultivate. You have to break your land anyway, and why not do it when it pays best? Take advantage of your knowledge that fall plowing produces better crops and get busy breaking all that crops are gathered from.

Had Heard It Before.

While engaged in a conversation two prominent police magistrates began telling stories of funny cases that had been brought before them.

"Probably the funniest I ever had," remarked one, "was an aged colored man, bearing the earmarks of the South, who applied to me for a warrant. The offender, it seems, had been blaspheming Rastus before and he had then appealed to me for aid. Standing before my desk he proceeded as follows:

"'You' honah, I wants a warrant for George Washington. He's dat colored man that you told to be good two weeks ago, but he's been worse'n evah. I can stand him no longer.'"

"'Humph,' I remarked, casually, 'Seems to me I have heard that name somewhere before.'"

"'Yes, sah,' he answered, with alacrity, 'two weeks ago, sah.'"—Philadelphia Press.

If Jimmy Archibald will only emulate the speed of the average messenger boy, all will be forgiven and forgotten before he gets back.
